1. We appreciate the scope and character of this problem and do not want you to think that we underestimate its importance. It is certainly true that the finest kind of mailing material is no good if you do not possess a list of people to whom it is to be mailed.

2. However, it is going to take a little time to get together a substantial part of the material and information requested. In certain cases we may be able to supply wanted material quickly. But in other cases there inevitably will be delays. We will take steps to furnish wanted items quickly where possible -- for instance, the Hungarian and Czech stamps-- without waiting to complete the entire requisition.

3. This is simply an acknowledgement intended to advise you that we are actively following up your request. Incidentally, thanks very much for "Crocodile" which, it seems, turned out not to be as mythical as you feared; we'd appreciate seeing other copies if you get hold of them, as well as any ideas you may have as to our production of an organ of humorous satire.
